Whoever said, "You can't have it all," never sailed with Oceania Cruises. By blending elegance and luxury with exceptional intimacy and warmth, the cruise ship Nautica offers all the indulgences you could possibly imagine. You can partake in a traditional English afternoon tea or listen to a skilled pianist interpret a Bach concerto. And the delights even extend ashore.

On this fantastic 10-day Mediterranean Tapestry voyage for two, every port from Barcelona to Athens is a star in its own right. France reveals the vivid landscape of Provence, whose pastel colors and medieval villages have long inspired artists. Florence has few equals in the realm of art and architecture, except perhaps the eternal beauty of Rome. Amalfi epitomizes the ideal Italian village by the sea. Ephesus boasts one of the world's greatest collections of ancient ruins, and let's not forget Santorini, the personification of Greek beauty.

Return each evening to your Deluxe Oceanview Stateroom, which feels even more spacious with the curtains drawn back, the ocean in full view and natural light streaming in. Queen or twin bed accommodations, a comfortable seating area, a vanity desk, a refrigerated mini-bar and a breakfast table are among the many conveniences.

Perhaps best of all, legendary Master Chef Jacques Pépin is Oceania Cruises' Executive Culinary Director. Menus abound with creations from Jacques' own kitchen, including a selection of delectable signature dishes. You will even find Chef Pépin's presence extending beyond the dining room, with his own dedicated television channel onboard Nautica showcasing his culinary brilliance.

Lufthansa will provide Economy Class air travel for two from San Francisco to Barcelona, returning from Athens to San Francisco. Make yourself comfortable with ergonomic seats and adjustable headrests while enjoying in-seat entertainment and even wireless Internet service on select transatlantic flights. Meals, beverages and cocktail selections are always complimentary. Lufthansa – There's no better way to fly.
