The Amgen Foundation, in collaboration with WGBH and KQED, hosts Biotechnology Workshop for Science Educators

What: The Amgen Foundation, in collaboration with WGBH Public Television and KQED Public Media, presents a special Biotechnology Workshop at Amgen's Fremont campus. The workshop will feature special information and opportunities for professional development for science educators interested in learning about how to engage in biotechnology-based science education. Those in attendance will gain access to a special collection of multimedia and interactive lessons developed by WGBH and find out how to enroll in Teachers' Domain professional development courses through the PBS TeacherLine. Teachers' Domain is an online library of more than 1,000 free media resources from the best in public television, including NOVA, Frontline, and Design Squad, as well as the KQED Science Media Collection, featuring QUEST and other localized content for Bay Area educators.

The day will feature expert presenters from the biotechnology field, testimonials from guest educators, a tutorial on how to use the Teachers' Domain archive, and special tours of the Amgen Biotech Manufacturing Facility.

When: Saturday, May 8 from 10am – 2:30pm

Where: AMGEN Campus
6701 Kaiser Drive
Fremont, CA 94555-3659

More Info: Open to the public and free of charge (registration is required)
For more info and to RSVP, email scienceed@kqed.org
Coffee and a light breakfast, as well as lunch, will be provided

About KQED

KQED (www.kqed.org) is a service of Northern California Public Broadcasting, Inc. (NCPB). KQED Public Television, one of the nation's most-watched public television stations, is the producer of local and national series such as QUEST; Check, Please! Bay Area; Jacques Pépin: More Fast Food My Way; and Jean-Michel Cousteau: Ocean Adventures. KQED's digital television channels include 9HD, Life, World, Kids and V-me, and are available 24/7 on Comcast. KQED Public Radio (88.5 FM in San Francisco and 89.3 FM in Sacramento), home of Forum with Michael Krasny and The California Report, is one of the most-listened-to public radio stations in the nation with an award-winning news and public affairs program service. KQED Education Network brings the impact of KQED to thousands of teachers, students, parents and the general public through workshops, community screenings and multimedia resources. KQED Interactive offers video and audio podcasts and live radio stream at www.kqed.org, featuring unique content on one of the most-visited station sites in public broadcasting.
